THE FOREIGN CORRESPONDENTS' CLUB OF SOUTH ASIA (FCC SOUTH ASIA) RULES & INSTRUCTIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION

Rules

The FCC South Asia is a Club of professional journalists working for the international media and was founded in 1958. We also admit members under five other categories: Journalists working for the Indian media (Journalist Associate), diplomats based in India (Diplomat Associate), professionals, authors, artistes, government officials etc (General Associate) and corporate executives wishing to interact with the media (Corporate Associate), and their spouses of members (Spouse). Membership of the FCC South enables you to visit and avail the facilities of the Club, enables you to attend events at the Club, and also gives you access to 42 Press Clubs in 28 countries in Asia Pacific, Europe and North America. As and when FCC South Asia has reciprocal arrangements with media and other clubs in India and overseas, the same will be informed to members so that they can avail the benefits.

1. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENT MEMBERS (FC): Journalists with a minimum experience of five years in writing, broadcasting, photography, research or managerial capacity, represent foreign-based media, or media for which the bulk of circulation or audience is outside India. This is the only membership category which has the right to vote in Club meetings and elections to run the affairs of the Club. Applications should be accompanied by a Press Information Bureau (PIB) accreditation card from the Government of India, or a letter from a foreign-based Editor of the organization applicant works for, or clippings during the period of six months (reporting events in India or elsewhere) preceding the application to become an FC category member of the FCC South Asia.

Annual subscription is Rs 5,000 plus Rs. 10,000 one-time non-refundable admission fee plus applicable taxes.

2. JOURNALIST ASSOCIATE MEMBERS (JA): Journalists representing Indian media, with a minimum experience of five years in reporting, editing, writing, broadcasting, photographic, research or managerial capacity.
